ATMOSPHERE OF CHANGE

Wesleyan, like the world around us, had its ups and downs during the year. Changes in the administration, residence hall life and technology which facilitated communication occurred with anticipation of creating a more stable campus community. The college explored new avenues for making students more comfortable with their college experiences.

Many administrative changes occurred which ranged from the Student Affairs office to the athletic program offices. The Dean of Students, Dr. Dallas Bailey, became the Vice-president for Student Affairs. With this change came the appointment of Mr. William Johnston to the position of Associate Dean of Students. Dr. Bailey and Mr. Johnston worked together throughout the year to coordinate the activities of the Student Affairs office. Mr. Rochelle Peoples continued in the position of Acting Director of Admissions. Renovations of the Admissions office along with new and exciting ideas for recruitment were initial changes which were necessary to help in the promotion of Wesleyan. Perhaps the greatest highlight was the initiation of a Spring Open House, which occurred in April and allowed prospective students to see the campus in action. Dr. Jerry Beasley joined the Wesleyan family as the Vice-president for College Advancement. Coordinating the activities of such offices as College Public Relations and the Alumni office were among his responsibilities. Dr. Beasley also spent much of his time and energy personally working on college advancement. In this position, Dr. Beasley worked hard in relating the activities of the college to the public. The Athletic department was not able to escape changes. Mr. Kent Carpenter became Athletic Director when Sam Ross accepted the position of Alumni Director. Coach Bill Strubel was appointed as head football coach as Mr. Carpenter assumed his new responsibilities. The most dynamic change in the athletic department came with the placement of Mr. Bruce Stewart as the head basketball coach. Mr. Stewart and his assistant, Mr. Rich Cameron, led their team to the NAIA championship in Kansas City. The Bobcats proved a respectable second place in the nation. The team returned to Buckhannon, following their trip, and was greeted by fans in the Rockefeller Center. The new year brought many new faces to our campus and gave familiar faces new responsibilities. The efforts proved positive, as the campus community experienced a rewarding year.

Students could not escape the inevitability of change. The year saw more students residing on campus than in recent years. The Camden Avenue project was completed for occupation by students before the commencement of first semester. Students who chose to live there found a year of adventure. Campus-wide, students engaged in many activities within their halls. During the year McCuskey Hall had completed the face-lift which was begun the year before, and Fleming Hall began to see renovations late in the year.

Another transition involved the tapping of available resources to improve communications and technology. The personnel in the audio-visual department, along with administrators, made the campus cable-system a reality. A satellite dish was placed outside of Haymond Hall, and an antenna was placed on the top of the building. The computer system was updated for student use. The new system was installed and enabled more students to use the terminals at one time.

With one word, TRANSITIONS, the entire year can be summed up. The effects of change hit the campus on many occasions as Wesleyan continued to express its concern for the students, and the campus community as a whole.

Enduring it all

Streetside

"Shhh — you are on Streetside!" The area of campus which has long been seen as a quiet area is Streetside, which is composed of Jenkins, Benedum and Agnes Howard residence Halls. The buildings offer both the old and the new. Prior to the completion of Camden, Benedum Hall was the newest hall on campus, and Agnes Howard the oldest.

Benedum offers many features which the older halls do not offer. It has many lounge areas as well as a number of kitchens for use by its residents. Benedum also has the Nellie Wilson lounge on first floor.

Jenkins has long been seen as the hall which houses upperclassmen. During the summer of 1982, Jenkins received many of the benefits of renovations. Plans are in the works to provide more lounge and recreation areas for Jenkins.

Agnes Howard Hall provides for residents the opportunity for both community and suite living. Aggie, as it is often referred, has also seen improvements. The college recently completed the restoration of the bathrooms on suite-side. Along with the college's efforts are the efforts of the College Club of Buckhannon — which provide for the needs of the building, to preserve its antiquity.

Jerry Yeatts served as Residence Life Coordinator for Jenkins, Benedum and Agnes Howard halls. Jerry came to WVWC with his wife, Sue, from Ohio University. The Assistant Coordinators for Streetside were Jane Nickell in Benedum and Lisa Mummaw in Agnes Howard. Jane and Lisa, both Wesleyan students, completed their studies in the Spring, 1983. Jerry, Jane, and Lisa worked throughout the year in coordinating their RA staffs. In the Spring they held a carnival to benefit United Way.

Donna Kocher resided in Fleming Hall and served as the Residence Life Coordinator for the Quad area. She came to Wesleyan from Alma College in Michigan where she worked in Housing for two years. Assisting Donna in the Quad were Teri Velicoff in McCuskey, and David Wharton in Doney Hall. In an effort to provide for the needs of their residents, they aided in the initiation of Quad Council which sponsored programs.

The Quad

Have you ever been quaded? Have you ever tried? Unless you have been a student lucky enough to live in the Quad, this probably has little meaning to you. This excitement is a part of the experience which is shared by the residents of McCuskey, Doney, and Fleming Halls. Although the Quad has long maintained the reputation of being wild, the residents find the atmosphere excellent in providing for individual growth and expression. Due to the close proximity of the buildings, social interaction runs rampant in the Quad.

In an effort to renew the physical structures of this area, the Quad is undergoing renovations. The rooms of the residents are being repainted and necessary repairs are being made. Study areas have been added in many areas, and carpeting has been installed in those areas which did not have it before. Along with these improvements, plans have been made to provide more study and kitchen areas. With its new look, the Quad has experienced a renewed sense of pride.

CAMDEN

"Can we move in yet?" This question was posed by many students in early September while construction crews prepared halls for potential Camden residents. After final approval was given by the West Virginia fire marshall, Camden Residence Life had its beginnings.

The Camden area provides students with a different college lifestyle. The complex consists of two suite buildings, housing two 28-person and two 10-person suites along with twelve campus apartments. Although all the residents experienced ramifications of the "shake down" period, life in Camden began to run smoothly. Through the efforts of Camden Residence Hall Staff, Camden Council was formed for the initiation of student activities and programs.

Although life there has been different, to say the least, at least residents there don't have to yell "showers" before they flush.

With the completion of the Camden Avenue residence area, Holloway Hall was included in the area, under the direction Barbara Forinash as Residence Life Coordinator. Barbara and her husband, Michael, came to campus in July, from Kansas and resided at 83 Kanawha until construction of their Camden apartment was complete. Beth Lipscomb, Assistant Coordinator of Holloway Hall, worked closely with Barbara throughout the year in providing activities for the residents.

And putting it all together

Putting it all together and keeping it all together is what the Resident Assistants of Wesleyan do. Resident Assistants, or RA's, are the most solid communication connection between the students and the administration. Their main goals are to keep that communication channel open and to provide an atmosphere conducive to learning.

These two goals are sound in theory, but actually achieving these ideals is sometimes quite difficult. The RA's have to contend with responsibilities relating to Bill Johnston, to their Residence Life Coordinator, and possibly to their Assistant Coordinator plus to their residents on their hall. In other words, they are the people in the middle of everything from paperwork to counseling to judicial conferences.

Being an RA consists of many responsibilities, but it can be a very enjoyable experience. Not only does it provide a way of meeting and dealing with many different people, but it also is an exciting challenge to the individual.

Student Affairs Transforms

The Student Affairs Division was unable to escape the whirlwind of change which hit the campus. The office of Student Affairs had long dealt with the concerns of the students with no defined route of communication with other offices which deal with students. In the Fall, Dr. Dallas Bailey was offered the position of Vice President for Student Affairs. This position was created to help in the unification of all of the student service offices. The Student Affairs Division includes the office of the Chapel, the office of the Campus Center and Programming, the Health Center, the offices of Counseling, Placement, and Advising, Financial Aid, and the Student Affairs office which contains the Housing and Dean of Students offices.

The Dean of the Chapel, Mr. Craig Michel, worked throughout the year coordinating Christian life on campus. Dean Michel left Wesleyan early in the summer to continue working on his Doctorate degree. The Director of Programming, Mr. Bob Skinner, has long been a part of the Wesleyan community. While he was a student here he served as part of the housing staff. A team of students which comprised the Campus Activities Board aided in the providing of programs for the campus. Working with Mr. Skinner, Mrs. Chris Moore has long served as the office coordinator by managing the accounts and affairs of the Programming office. The student Health Center is run by Mrs. Pat Strader, R.N. Mrs. Strader has worked all year keeping the campus healthy. She works with the doctors and other staff members to keep the "bug" under control. She spent a busy year in the Health Center, because of the drastic weather conditions, many students suffered with colds and flu. Dr. Judy Siewert continued to direct the offices

THE DEDICATED DUO

Everyone knows that the Housing Office is where students can find Dean Bailey or Bill Johnston but how many students know the two secretaries who take care of all the paperwork which comes out of the Housing Office? Letters to students concerning housing procedures, judicial conferences, and changing in policies are all typed up and dispersed to the appropriate places by these two dedicated people. Vera Hornbeck and Pam Gillespie are the two people who keep the Housing Office organized and on top of things.

Vera Hornbeck's (at right) responsibilities are geared more towards Dean Bailey's Office. She types up all those letters, organizes the students' files and keeps tabs on the petty cash fund. Pam Gillespie's duties coincide more towards Bill Johnston's position. She places of Counseling, Placement and Advising. She and her staff worked with student problems which ranged from career choices to crisis. The Financial Aid office experienced a change late in the Spring, as Dr. Nate Jackson joined the community as the Director of Financial Aid. Before his arrival, Mrs. Pat Howell served as the director, and she worked with the Student Affairs team.

The appointment of Dr. Bailey entailed the taking over of administrative tasks which would serve to unite all of the divisional offices. Mr. William Johnston was appointed the Associate Dean of Students as Dr. Bailey assumed the responsibilities of his new role. Another change which affected the Student Affairs office was the hiring of three new professional staff members to serve as Residence Life Coordinators in the residence halls. The individuals who were hired were Jerry Yeatts in Jenkins Hall, Barbara Forinash in Camden Area, and Donna Kocher in Fleming Hall. Working with the Residence Life Coordinators was a highly motivated group of students who served as Resident Assistants and Assistant Residence Life Coordinators. The Residence Hall staffs worked throughout the year by providing a wide variety of programs to help students enjoy their experiences with campus life.

Many people worked very hard to create this much needed change. The efforts proved positive as the forces were joined to help the students. The Student Affairs Division was one of the necessary changes which occurred to enhance the quality of the Wesleyan experience.

students when they come to her from the Admissions Office, takes care of inventories for those rooms, and makes out the appropriate charges for living on campus. Even though, they have specific responsibilities their duties interconnect to compile all information on the individual student.

Vera and Pam also work through the summer with the many different conferences which meet here. With the help of the Summer Conference Aides, they organize the arrival and departure times, the placement of groups in the various halls, attend to the needs of the groups, and assist in the billing procedure.

Although students may not know Vera Hornbeck and Pam Gillespie, they are the dedicated duo who manage to make everything run smoothly in the Housing Student Affairs Office.

NO ONE DOES IT BETTER

Dr. Jerry Beasley joined the Wesleyan family in the Fall. Dr. Beasley received a Bachelor's and Master's degree from Harvard and his Doctorate from Stanford. He and his wife are native West Virginians. Dr. Beasley once stated that beside his family, his strongest commitment is quality education in the mountains of West Virginia.

Dr. Beasley serves as the Vice-President for College Advancement. Having been involved in higher education as a student, teacher and administrator for the past twenty years, he has been able to view a variety of colleges and universities. Dr. Beasley was drawn to Wesleyan because he believed that it was the best independent college — definitely the strongest in West Virginia. Through his position with the college, he interprets the college and its purpose and relates this information to the surrounding communities. This communication extends beyond the Buckhannon area to alumni businesses, the church, and federal, state, and local governmental agencies.

Dr. Beasley is truly an asset to the Wesleyan family. With his initial goal of quality education in mind, he seeks to provide the best for Wesleyan.

Mr. Samuel Ross accepted the position of Associate Vice-President for Development/Alumni Affairs which began this fall. Mr. Ross was a graduate of Wesleyan and has served the college in faculty and administrative positions for over 25 years. He has served in such positions as Director of Housing, Director of Financial Aid, Dean of Students along with ongoing involvement with the athletics department as a coach and associate professor of physical education.

Mr. Ross regarded his association with the students who have attended Wesleyan, and keeping in touch with them, as very rewarding. Having been involved with students on a daily basis, he found that this was not as evident after accepting this new position. One way in which Mr. Ross maintained his association with students was in this continuing support of the women's tennis program as the coach.

Mr. Ross is very proud of the Wesleyan concept of family — his own family has attended Wesleyan since the beginning of the twentieth century. Now, by serving as Director of Alumni Affairs, he is able to continue to serve Wesleyan and his work is helping to keep the Wesleyan family going strong.

Mr. Rochelle Peoples serving as acting director of Admissions found a natural extension of the previous positions which he had held in the business community. Having worked in Buckhannon for the past three years, he was able to make many associations with members of the college. While working for Corhart Refractories, he served in recruiting college students for employment upon completion of their studies. During this time he fell in love with aiding students in finding their way along the path of education.

Mr. Peoples brought with him many new ideas for the admissions program. These ideas involved both physical and attitudinal changes regarding admissions. Changes which have been seen included the remodeling of the office area, and a change in the overall attitude as well. The attitudinal change came as a result of conditioning the entire campus community to realize that Wesleyan offers to students, a valuable collegiate experience. Mr. Peoples personally worked hard to involve as many people on campus as was possible in admissions.

Having Mr. Peoples as a part of the Wesleyan family has added new life to the admissions office, as well as the entire campus community. By involving the entire community, Mr. Peoples was able to organize the Spring Open House which attracted many prospective students to campus. This idea was one of the many which made the year a success.

Coaches Bruce Stewart and Rich Cameron came to Wesleyan and led their team to the NAIA Championship in Kansas City. Coach Stewart and his wife, Robin, came to Wesleyan after three years at Volunteer State Community College. During his coaching career at VSCC, Stewart led his team to achievement. Coach Cameron, a Wesleyan Alumni, returned to his alma mater after serving as Athletic Director and Coach at a junior high school in Indian-town, Florida. Coach Stewart saw coaching at a four-year college a challenge, and Cameron wanted to work with mature players to work on strategy and the "tricks of the trade." The combination of the coaching abilities of these two young men proved the Bobcats as a national competitor.

Their efforts were a great success. Combining the talents of new and returning players, the team battled to the top. Due to the outstanding performance of the team, students, faculty, and administrators along with the Buckhannon community showed their support throughout the year. After the 'Cats return from Kansas City, a rally was held, and the team was met by its enthusiastic fans. The 'Cats were well received and congratulated for their excellent efforts!

WVWC CABLE SYSTEM

"What happened to Channel 4?" was the question of many students who returned from Thanksgiving Break to find "Dynasty" and "All My Children" lost in marginal fuzz. The marginal fuzz was due to the placement of a new satellite dish next to Haymond Hall which controls the cable system on campus.

With six satellite stations and an educational station on the way, the new system has many advantages. Dr. Bob Moore, Coordinator of Educational Media Services, hopes to develop the campus station into a daily or weekly show. The station would be operated by students interested in television communications. He also plans to broadcast classroom instruction through the station. Students could take a three-credit elective merely by watching television.

In the past two J-terms, students have been participating in the Basic Television Production class. Mainly, the class has been used to expose students to the operations of a real TV studio. They are required to create a short production using the various TV communication skills.

The engineer behind the College TV studio and TV cable system is Paul Green. He assisted along with Dr. Moore in the construction of the satellite dish and tower. He also performs preventive maintenance on the equipment of the system and across campus. Mr. Green explained the satellite works under a Head-End System. This means the satellite receives the waves, amplifies them, and then sends them back out. The ABC station, or Channel 4, in Pittsburgh is not strong enough to be received by the satellite tower which is why it is fuzzy most of the time. But measures are being taken to correct this disturbance so hopefully, "Dynasty" and "All My Children" diehards will be happy soon.

Does this look Greek to you? Well, it's Pascal, one of the seven languages used by computer students, and one of the most difficult languages to learn. If you have never gone into the computer room, the above program may seem confusing and complicating, but to the computer science student it is a relatively simple program.

The computer system at the College has two centers: one used by the administration and one used for academics. Ron Klausewitz, Director of the Computer Center stated that many advantageous improvements had been made over the summer. The old system could only assist 24 students in the printing of programs at one time. Now the computer system can assist up to 40 students at the same time. This allows entire classes in statistics, psychology, sociology, and computer science to accomplish their assignments all at once. Not only can classes participate in this new system but also faculty and administration members. The computer system is capable of word processing which can assist in compiling doctoral dissertations, publications, and research.

Mr. Klausewitz plans to initiate a program to help students pursue careers in computer science. He feels freshmen entering the field need to find out if they have an aptitude for computers. He suggests that they take a diagnostic test before taking a computer class. The results of this test will enable the professor and student to concentrate on inadequate skills before becoming too involved in this field.

So if you think computers are confusing, you should give a try because they are the language of the future.

NIGHT LIFE

"What are you doing tonight?" used to be a question dreaded by students as they walked down the sidewalk on a Friday afternoon. Mainly, because students viewed the College and surrounding community as a place to learn and nothing more. However, Buckhannon's night life has changed. More students are making use of activities on campus. Students are also going to some of the establishments which have popped up in the Buckhannon area.

The students have realized Wesleyan is not just a place to study, and they began to enjoy the various activities which were provided. Throughout the year, the Benedum Campus Center offered a wide range of entertainment, from bowling to Casino Night.

Many students took advantage of the great sporting events which were held in the Rockefeller Gym. Intramural basketball and volleyball games provided a great outlet for the pressures of classes during the week. The indoor Soccer Tournament gave the students and community a chance to see the soccer players in a different playing field than usual. The soccer team proved it could win just as easily on an inside field. The basketball team showed the members of the Wesleyan family some exciting court action which brought out the fraternities, sororities, and independents.

The Rockefeller Gym was also the stage for the Marshall Tucker Band, the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, and the phenomenal Airband Concert.

The Liberal Educational Series and the Campus Activities Board provided excellent films which were viewed by students and faculty alike. The residence halls offered coffeehouses and sundae parties which were a big success, especially when Jules and Neuffer were singing. If it was a slow weekend on campus, the students went out to the new establishments all over town.

One of the newest attractions, Spanky and Alfalfa's, joined the Buckhannon community in late September. For Wesleyan students, it provided a pleasant, rustic atmosphere for socializing and entertainment. Another new attraction which opened in November was the Cinema Showbar. Students enjoyed the contemporary look and atmosphere of the Cinema.

The Bobcat Lounge, located in the Bicentennial Motel, has long been seen as an old standby. The place to go when there was nothing else to do. Contrary to this belief, the Bobcat Lounge gained popularity. The Bobcat had a new sound system and disc jockey booth which played the newest disco and Rap music.

The Center, like the Bobcat, was another old standby. It provided an atmosphere for socializing and good times with good friends. The Center best portrayed the easy-going lifestyle of the Buckhannon community.

Heaven Only Knows, which was a part of the Cheshire Cat had an atmosphere unlike any place else in Buckhannon. In the tradition of the Cheshire, it was both unique and vibrant which kept people coming back for more good times.

So now if anybody asks you what are you going to do tonight? — you have several good answers.

PRECIOUS MEMORIES

Thoughts of Wesley Chapel decorated at Christmastime or of the rock which has just been painted for the hundredth time, they are but fleeting moments. What would one remember in anticipation of a return to Wesleyan for a visit? The primary thoughts of the alumni are of the traditions of which they all were a part. These thoughts live forever in their hearts. The traditions which are shared among all of the Wesleyan family members are special because we all have played a vital role in their creation. These traditions extend from the very first day a student walked the campus to the final walk as a student during the commencement ceremony. Throughout the years as new students arrive and others graduate, during the turmoil of it all remains a special gratitude which will live in their hearts forever. In the years to come, the Wesleyan traditions will be remembered with a feeling of warmth and antiquity.

FRESHMAN

The last week of August also brings with it, a whole new generation of Wesleyan students. The serene campus comes alive as faculty members and upperclassmen return. They plan their strategy for meeting and guiding the freshmen through this period of adjustment and orientation. This plan includes group meetings, tours, scheduling, and faculty desserts . . .

ORIENTATION

... After all these events, the freshmen are ready to leave behind their high school lives to begin their new future. They must say good-bye to parents, to begin a new independence. After the final barbecue, parents start to depart. These next few days before classes begin are used as a time to get to know roommates, new friends and to adjust to the school itself.

THERE'S NOTHING LIKE A PARADE . . .

The highlight of the entire homecoming weekend was the coronation of the Queen, Miss Suellyn Oskamp. Following the coronation, a reception was held in Benedum lounge, many of the Queen's friends and family were there to extend their congratulations to Suellyn. On Saturday morning the Queen and her court participated in the tradition of the parade, seated on their float which was constructed by the freshman class. Many other groups participated in the weekend's festivities by creating floats and banners centering on the theme of Wesleyan World's Fair.

The men had their fair share of the homecoming festivities as well. The fraternities turned out in full force for the gala affair. All of the fraternities added their own special touch to the weekend. Many of the fraternities hosted open houses during the weekend, welcoming their many alumni who returned for the weekend.

Although many of the members of the campus community shared in the events of the weekend, few know who planned the weekend. The special activities committee of Community Council hosted the festivities. Their efforts did not go unnoticed, as they planned a very special weekend this year.

CAPPING CEREMONY

A DAY OF NEW BEGINNINGS

After a year of hard work as freshmen, the sophomore nursing majors shared the limelight as all received their nursing caps, signifying the beginning of an exciting new path. The ceremony was filled with sentiment and great hope as the students passed the first milestone on the way to receiving their nursing degrees. The ceremony was held in Wesley Chapel which was filled with the families and friends of the students. As each received her cap, the nursing professors read selections which the students chose to be read. The ceremony has become one of Wesleyan's finest traditions.

FESTIVAL OF LESSONS AND CAROLS

The Christmas season brings special joy to the Wesleyan family. Traditionally, Christmas begins the day that the students arrive back to campus following Thanksgiving break. The halls are decorated with lights and trees in honor of the season. Christmas carols echo through the halls and a spirit of fellowship falls over the campus.

The most sacred of all of the celebrations is the "Festival of Lessons and Carols." The event is held in the Chapel and brings the entire family together to worship and to celebrate the birth of Christ. Members of the administration, faculty and students all participate in the worship service. Special presentations are made by the choir and Concert Chorale, and the campus community participates in the singing of carols. The height of the entire service is the lighting of the Christmas tree. With candles and song the community surrounds the tree and with the lighting of the tree, Christmas begins at Wesleyan.

AMERICAN TOP 40 THRU THE YEARS . . .

"American Top 40 Thru The Years" was the theme chosen for Spring Sing 1983. The Special Activities committee of Community Council organized the evening's events. The highlight of the affair was the coronation of the Spring Sing Queen. Senior candidates for the title were Carla Fredlock, Robin Gilmore, Kim Hall, Leigh Howard and Tracey James. Kim Hall was crowned queen and was accompanied by junior attendant Eileen Dougherty, sophomore attendant Kelly Bramblett, and freshman attendant Irene Gagianas. Karen Jones, 1982 Spring Sing Queen, was present to lend a hand in the ceremony. The rose bearer was Lauren Elizabeth Ross while Jacob Michael Hinkle served as crown bearer. Following the ceremony Kim was serenaded as "The Sing" began.

Spring Sing activities were the highlight of the Greek Week activities. The event included the coronation of the Spring Sing Queen, followed by groups competing for honors in the "Sing." The Queen, Kim Hall, was serenaded by the groups which were being judged on their performances. Parents, friends, and alumni visited the campus for the affair. The evening created fond memories for both the audience and the groups. Historically, the evening included participation by both Greek and independent groups; however, this year only Greek organizations participated in "the Sing."

Capturing first place in the women's contest were the sisters of Alpha Gamma Delta, while Sigma Theta Epsilon won top honors in the men's division. Under the direction of Margie Carr, Alpha Gamma Delta sang a medley of Top 40 hits under the title "Dancing Thru The Years." The sorority performed selections such as "Gotta Dance!" "Dancing in the Dark," and "Varsity Drag." The brothers of Sigma Theta Epsilon won with their "New Beginning" hits which included "New York, New York," "My Girl," "Cherish," and "One Voice." Directors Margie Carr, of Alpha Gamma Delta and Craig McGaughey of Sigma Theta Epsilon won the title of Best Director for their respective division. Both groups displayed a diversity of talent as they captured their titles.

Second Place honors went to Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Sigma Epsilon. Director Denise Head led her sisters through a group of tunes from the fifties. "Rock Around the Clock," "Rockin' Robin," and "Blueberry Hill" were among the selections chosen from that era. Phi Sigma Epsilon sang top 40 songs from "A.M. Music." Will Aubry arranged and directed the group along with accompanying them on the synthesizer. Dave Young also accompanied the fraternity on the drums, and Todd Conrad played the piano. "Stray Cat Strut," "Heat of the Moment," "Down Under," and "Don't Talk to Strangers" were their choice of tunes. Alpha Xi Delta and Chi Phi took third place honors, leaving Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Alpha, and Theta Xi out of the running. Alpha Xi Delta, under the direction of Lisa Stroul, performed songs from "The Carpenters." Their selections included "We've Only Just Begun," "Close to You," and "On Top of the World." Chi Phi performed "Chi Phi's All Time Favorites" by rendering "American Pie" for listening ears. Carl Johnson led the fraternity through their performance. Alpha Delta Pi performed songs by "The Beach Boys," under the direction of Beth Reeves. Kappa Alpha sang a group of songs under the title "Rockin' Out." Among their choices was the famous "Monster Mash." Theta Xi entertained the audience with "Songs from the Center," along with the premiere performance of their response to the "Camden Avenue Song" which made a hit during Spring Sing 1982. Theta Xi was directed by Gregory "Smitty" Smith. Theta Chi chose not to participate.

The Baccalaureate service was held in Wesley Chapel, Friday evening the thirteenth of May. The service allowed for family and friends of the graduates and College to share in the worship with graduates. Members of the senior class and faculty participated in the order of service. Thomas Gable, Berta Johnson, William Cline and Ben Shepard served as liturgists for the service. The faculty and administration were represented as Dr. Thaddeus Gurdak, Dr. Kenneth Welliver, Dr. Sidney Davis, and Dr. Arthur Holmes also participated in the service. Music for the evening was rendered by Dr. Larry Parsons and the WWC Concert Chorale along with guest organist Dr. William P. Haller, Associate Professor of Music at West Virginia University. Highlighting the evening was the presentation of the Workman Chair of Religion, by Dr. M. Arthur Workman. Dr. James Peter Bercovitz was named as the first Workman Professor of Religion during the services. Dr. Bercovitz has been a member of the Wesleyan community since 1965 and throughout has been dedicated to his career and sensitive to the people with whom he works. Dr. Bercovitz was described as "bringing distinction to this new chair." In all, the night held joy for all who participated in the service.

WORKMAN CHAIR — A GIFT OF LOVE

Dr. M. Arthur Workman (b. June 29, 1889 in Oceana, WV) endowed the Workman Chair of Religion in memory of his parents. Dr. Workman was a student of Wesleyan and during the last two months of his first year of study, he ran short of cash. Reluctantly, he wrote home knowing that his parents had few resources of their own, as his father was a circuit riding preacher for the Methodist Church. His mother sold a young milk cow which enabled her to send her son twenty dollars. That money allowed him to finish his first year. Dr. Workman concluded his studies by receiving his A.B. degree in 1918.

After having served as a student pastor at Wesleyan, Dr. Workman resolved to benefit the college that had done so much for him. The Workmans have helped students with grants and scholarships, in the names of family members. Dr. Workman made an initial endowment for the chair in stocks in 1977, and the evening of Baccalaureate created the first endowed Chair for Wesleyan.

OLD AND NEW FRIENDS GATHER TOGETHER FOR GRADUATION

The events of Commencement Weekend brought many members and friends of the Wesleyan family together. At the meeting of the Emeritus Club, former President Stanley Martin was made an honorary member. Dr. Fred Harris also visited the College for the activities. The tradition of the Senior Banquet held an evening of fellowship for the seniors and their families. An added attraction was the appearance of Minnie Mouse who appeared on the Chapel clock.

PEOPLE.

PEOPLE IMPORTANT TO YOU

PEOPLE UNIMPORTANT TO YOU CROSS YOUR LIFE.

TOUCH IT WITH LOVE AND CARELESSNESS AND MOVE ON.

THERE ARE PEOPLE WHO LEAVE YOU AND YOU

BREATHE

A SIGH OF RELIEF AND WONDER WHY YOU EVER

CAME

INTO CONTACT WITH THEM.

THERE ARE PEOPLE WHO LEAVE YOU AND YOU

BREATHE

A SIGH OF REMORSE AND WONDER WHY THEY

HAD TO GO AWAY AND LEAVE SUCH A

GAPPING HOLE.

CHILDREN LEAVE PARENTS;

FRIENDS LEAVE FRIENDS;

ACQUAINTANCES MOVE ON.

PEOPLE CHANGE HOMES

PEOPLE GROW APART

ENEMIES HATE AND MOVE ON

FRIENDS LOVE AND MOVE ON.

YOU THINK ON THE MANY WHO HAVE MOVED INTO

YOUR HAZY MEMORY. YOU LOOK ON THOSE PRESENT

AND WONDER.

I BELIEVE IN GOD'S MASTER PLAN IN LIVES.

HE MOVES PEOPLE IN AND OUT OF EACH OTHER'S LIVES.

AND EACH LEAVES HIS MARK ON THE OTHER.

YOU FIND YOU ARE MADE UP OF BITS AND PIECES OF

ALL WHO EVER TOUCHED YOUR LIFE, AND YOU ARE

BECAUSE OF IT, AND YOU WOULD BE LESS IF THEY

HAD NOT TOUCHED YOU.

PRAY TO GOD THAT YOU ACCEPT THE BITS AND

PIECES

IN HUMILITY, AND WONDER, AND NEVER QUESTION,

AND

Fairytales

It seems like that where ever I go people come into my life — or go out of it.

Touching me where ever I can feel, then leaving me only a memory so easily forgotten, and I wasn't done knowing them. How do I know who I am seeing for the last time? And how do you half your life to gather and keep those around you that you've ever known . . . and how do you keep fairy tales from losing their magic?

So come . . . brush against the walls of my life and stay long enough for us to know each other even though you know we'll have to part some time. And we both know the longer you stay the more I will miss you when you are gone. But come anyway for fairy tales are the happiest stories we know. And great books are made of little Chapters.

LORETTA A. ZAHREN

Sometimes we may not realize that everything we do
 Affects not only our lives but touches others, too.
 A single happy smile can always brighten up the day
 For anyone who happens to be passing by your way,
 And a little bit of thoughtfulness shows someone that you care creates a ray of sunshine for both of you to share.

FROM SUNNY PORT CHARLOTTE . . . TO SUNNY-BUCK

Founded with the philosophy that every person, regardless of age, should be afforded the opportunity to receive a college diploma, Wesleyan in Southwest Florida began. Students participated in courses of study in the areas of art, science, religion, English, and history. The courses were taught by members of the Buckhannon faculty along with the husband-wife team of Dr. Sidney Davis and Dr. Marian McBriar Davis. The students received degrees entitled the Bachelor of Liberal Studies.

THE MENTORS

THE WHAT?

The term mentor comes to the English language from the Greek. Mentor was the name of a friend of Odysseus who was in charge of instructing Odysseus' son, Telemachus. In English, mentor refers to an individual who is viewed as a guide, counselor, or coach. For the Wesleyan community, each member of the administration, faculty, and staff serves as a mentor for the students. Each has a unique style of communication which treats issues concerning students. Whether academic, personal, or family concerns arise, one may always find a listening ear among the Wesleyan Mentors.

PRESIDENT HUGH A. LATIMER

Dr. Hugh A. Latimer completed his sophomore year while executing the duties of President. Much came to pass during the first two years of the presidency. He has been faced with some very interesting events, especially at the hands of the yearbook staff. In the 1982 edition of the Murmurmontis he was known as Dr. Latimer, alias Mr. Latimore, alias Dr. Latime. Mrs. Latimer also was a victim of the press, as her face was cropped in half in order that Dr. Ken Welliver be pictured in the faculty section. The staff received a Presidential pardon for these careless acts.

The kindness of the Latimers is wonderful. Their active participation in the Wesleyan family exemplifies their true concern for the College.

Mr. Rochelle Peoples (far right) was the acting director of admissions during the year. He brought many ideas to his office, with the goal of improving the work of the Admissions team. At the close of the year, Mr. Peoples was named Director of Admissions.

Many individuals participated more than ever in the inner-workings of the College during the year. This group included all of those who were there when you needed them. Jim Andrew and Wayne Keplinger were two of the dedicated workers who helped to open Camden and keep the electricity flowing throughout campus. The dedicated Bookstore personnel were the people who kept everyone supplied with reading materials. They included Mrs. Arleta Mick, Mrs. Lee Snyder, Mr. Perry Lane, and Mrs. Debbie Girardo (left). With the initiation of Metro maintenance service Mr. Hugh Radcliff became the Director of Energy conservation and also worked with the Camden area.

NURSING DEPARTMENT

Following twelve years of dedication and service to the Wesleyan community, Mrs. Doris Godsey retired. Mrs. Godsey not only instilled in her students the motto, "The one who does the work develops the competencies." But she too lived by this verse. During her years of service to Wesleyan she was a nursing instructor, faculty council representative to Community Council and grandmother to Theta Chi fraternity. Her open door, hugs, and candy dish were a welcomed sight to many weary students. In the classroom, she taught the student how to think and take notes, as well as dictate them. The art of communication was an inherent ability and her students learned much from her example.

Her students look forward to reading a book someday which will contain the Godsey Self Evaluation Tool (G.S.E.T.), another of her special qualities. She is a woman of unique character and will always be fondly remembered by the Wesleyan family.

Thanks Mrs. G. and we love you!

Life in the Fast Lane

Students are known to do everything fast. They learn fast; work fast, play fast, and talk fast. The reason for this is that with so much to do students need free time for leisurely activities. And they do everything fast in hopes of achieving that free time.

During those few times that are free, escapades and adventures are formulated and carried out — from camping trips at Audra to silly pranks in the dorms (i.e., door jams, Quading, cold showers, etc. . . .). For students, life in the fast lane can be a hassle and hectic but those escapades . . . well, it's all in fun.

OF WESLEYAN

THE EVERCHANGING

Being a student at Wesleyan means much more than just classes. Our campus has so much more to offer. Residence Hall life is a unique experience in itself. Such facilities as the SCOW, the Gym, and campus areas in general contribute to the full Wesleyan experience.

Eighty-five percent of all Wesleyan students live in the resident halls. Lifestyles in these halls vary from the Quad to Streetside to Camden each displaying unique features. Students enjoy the ups and downs of community life. How many students ever forget their first roommate? Or their first confrontation with Aladdin food? Or the fun they had in the first big water battle of the year?

Aside from residence hall life, our campus offers much more. Students enjoy the benefits of the SCOW. Activities there range from relaxing with friends at the top of the SCOW to playing Centipede or Pac-Man between classes in the game room. Some of the other highlights of the Benedum Community Campus Center include the reading room, bookstore, the swimming pool, bowling, and billiards, as well as entertainment events in the social hall. And let's not forget the mailroom where we find air mail most of the time. The SCOW also houses the Programming Office, WVMC-FM, Educational Media Services, and Student Publications Offices (such as the deadly Pharos).

LIFE ON CAMPUS

The
of life
is the

— Maharishi Mahesh Yogi

Located next door to the SCOW is the Rockefeller Physical Education Center, better known as the "gym." In fact, many gyms and recreational facilities are incorporated in this edifice. The features of this athletic building include the Green Room, the weight room, the dance studio, an indoor tennis court, four racquetball courts, two gymnasiums, and several classrooms and an excellent athletic training facility. The Rockefeller Center also houses modern, spacious locker rooms which include shower and sauna areas.

Areas of outdoor recreation include the athletic fields (soccer, baseball, and Ross) and the tennis courts. Some of the nonconventional sports areas are the Chapel Oval, the Quad, the ever-famous campus roller-skating, and Frisbee golf. A prerequisite for graduation should be "playing" in the Camden playground.

Areas for meditation and quiet time not only include Wesley Chapel but also the Rose Garden, the Wall, Aggie's swing, and any huge tree around campus one cares to sit under. Peace can always be found in quiet sunset strolls around campus.

EVERYDAY LIFE

After the excitement of the new school year wears off, students settle into their daily routine on campus. Everyday campus life is not that of the slow-paced, laid-back life of the stereotyped West Virginia mountaineer. Filled appointment calendars, booked with classes and activities, best reflects life on campus. Aside from deadlines, coursework and meetings, one of the most difficult adjustments is getting along in the residence halls. Living in such a diverse community can be difficult at times. Some of the nerve-racking annoyances include neighbors who insist on blaring their stereos at 8:00 am, when you do not have a class until 1:15 pm, or while studying someone gets "Quaded" because of his birthday and the whole building goes wild. Perhaps one of the most difficult transitions is time management. It seems that your friends will always plan their celebrations the night before you have an exam or a term paper due.

With all of the chaos comes a special feature of campus life which makes one think he would not live any other way. These same buildings and people are those we will remember in the future as we reflect on our "college years." Memories of gossip sessions in the bathroom in the morning, snowball and water battles, no one could trade these unique events. Beyond the residence halls, activities planned and unplanned provide a constructive way for easing the tensions of college life. What a better surprise than a care package from home rather than just "air" mail! The total sum of good and bad on our campus equals great when it comes to making Wesleyan our home.

At times, many wonder why all of the papers, exams, and busy work is necessary. It seems like an endless race and for what purpose? Is it worth all of the effort? The only answer is learning; trying to take it all in, before we must move on. All things considered, classes are only one part, as important as they are, of a well-rounded education.

For those students who walk the Wesleyan campus today, have much to be thankful for as they will all too soon be Alumni.

OUTDOOR LIFE

Students enjoy a variety of outdoor activities on campus. The beautiful setting of Wesleyan lends itself to many recreational events. Whether stopping between classes to talk or taking walks around campus during a study break, one cannot help but enjoy the beauty of the campus. Campus Activities Board sponsors outdoor events such as concerts and campus roller-skating which take students away from their dorm and classrooms, and allow them to relax and enjoy the benefits of "Sunny-Buck." Contrary to popular belief, it does not rain seven days a week in Buckhannon, and this year was proof of that fact, as many students enjoyed the benefits of the Wesleyan outdoors.

The campus also has a few outdoor sites which allow for interesting conversation. Left: Todd Grubb relaxes on the "wall" in the Quad, while talking with a friend. Lower Left: Carol Schaeffer, Barb Camp and Eileen Erskine stop to converse outside of the library. Lower Right: What a better place to chat but next to the newly installed satellite dish.

CELEBRATE THE SEASON

Christmas was a special time on campus this year. Traditional events were carried out, organizations sponsored special events, and the residence halls were decked for the season.

The largest tradition of the holidays is the "Festival of Lessons and Carols" which was held in the Chapel. All of the members of the Wesleyan family held this event dear as it was a time for singing and worship. Fellowship and caring characterized this occasion. The special event of the lighting of the Christmas Tree was the finale of the evening.

During the following days before finals, many of the campus groups held parties in celebration of Christmas. The sororities introduced Greek life to the freshman women during their parties. The fraternities also celebrated at their houses with friends. Each of the groups added its touch to the spirit of the holiday.

Life in the Residence halls during the Christmas season is also a special event. Many of the areas held events which were both traditional and innovative. Such events were the traditional decking of the halls, Secret Santas, and individual hall parties.

The celebrating and fellowship displayed during this season showed the Spirit which lives with us all during the year.

JANUARY IN EUROPE

Traveling abroad is an exciting option for Wesleyan students during the January term. The 1983 European Pilgrimage left New York City for London, England. There the group saw Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, the Tower of London, the British Museum, and Wesley Chapel and House.

Paris, France was the next place the group toured. Here they toured Notre Dame Cathedral, the Louvre Art Museum, the Pantheon, St. Chapelle and Pompidou Museum.

After spending time in Paris the tour proceeded to Geneva, Switzerland. Time here was spent touring John Cavin's St. Pierre, the World Council of Churches, and United Nations.

Torre Pellice, Italy was the next stop on the agenda. The group visited the Waldensians, which is an historical pre-Reformation Protestant group.

After Torre Pellice, the group went to Zurich, Switzerland. In Zurich, they visited the Grossmunster Cathedral, St. Peter's Church, and the Anabaptist sites.

The last place on the tour was Amsterdam, here the group toured the Anne Frank House, "Our Lord in the Attic," and the Rijksmuseum.

Although the group's sightseeing tours kept them very busy, there was still enough time to enjoy the European atmosphere and other leisure activities.

EDUCATIONAL ADVENTURES

Twenty-one of Wesleyan's fashion merchandising and retail merchandising students toured New York City during January. While in New York, the group toured many large department stores including, Bloomingdale's, Macy's and Lord and Taylor. The group also experienced fine dining while in the "Big Apple." They were able to dine at the Waldorf as well as Mamma Leone's. The group was also privileged to see a ballet at Lincoln Center, the Broadway production "Nine," as well as a New York Fashion Show.

Staying on campus for January Term had its advantages, as students were able to participate in programs in their fields or to study in an area of special interest. The Ornithology class spent a "flighty" term, as the group observed the birds in Upshur County. The group also shared their knowledge with school children (Pictured is senior, Dawn Cocchi, displaying birds for two students).

A traditional course which is offered during January is the "Children's Theater." The group works on its production during January in preparation for performance in the Spring.

Right: One of the more amusing classes is bowling. Go for that strike! Middle: And then there is Mr. Gum's 9:05 Management Class which is sometimes more humorous than bowling. Below: Coach Myers intently hopes that the eight ball stays out of the corner pocket. Right Center: Another sunny afternoon studying the concepts of Finite Math II. Page 109 — Lower Left: Rarely can one student enjoy the quiet solitude of the SCOW. Page 109 — Bottom Right: The long line of registration is just the beginning of a long semester.

THE VOYAGERS

ANTICIPATION

The most vital role we share is that of being students. We pass from the fear of our first class to that great sense of accomplishment at graduation. The time between these two momentous events is filled with happiness and anxiety.

As we proceed from freshman to senior status we are consumed by the process of learning. The wonders of remembering the number of chapters we read, the reams of paper we use, and all of the pens and typewriter ribbons are all taken for granted. We will long remember the pulling of "All Nighters," the thrill of an "A" and the dread of an "F." The result of all of our toil is finding our place as a productive member of a larger society. Although this thought gets lost in our learning, as we are involved in the immediacy of today, the reality of it approaches all too quickly.

We will look back on these years of hard work, which now seem to be monotonous, and bow our heads in thanks for all of the experiences we shared within the halls of Wesleyan.

ACTIVE TRADITIONS

The organizations at Wesleyan are traditionally a major portion of student life. Providing a means through which students are able to share interests and ideas is the main function of these groups. The people who are involved include faculty as well as students. Faculty advisors help to give the group direction with regard to their efforts. A wide range of organizations offer membership to students according to their major field of study. Others provide a means for expression of issues which relate to collegiate life. The organizations not only benefit their individual members, but enhance the entire campus community. Members work hard throughout the year to sponsor various educational, cultural, and social programs. Although some of these groups are better known than others, each organization plays a vital role in creating an atmosphere of fellowship among the members of the Wesleyan community.

MURMURMONTIS

Putting together this book was no picnic. The staff worked together and fought together trying to get these 288 pages to look like a yearbook. The final pages were not completed until August, 1983. In order to have the book completed on time it would have been best to have it finished by June. Because the editors and several staff members were on campus for the summer, we worked together to tie up the loose ends. Therefore, in the tradition of the Murmurmontis, this book is destined to be late.

The editors would like to thank their staff members who weathered the long hours necessary to complete this publication. We also must thank Howard Hiner, Glenda Hyre and Ms. Baldwin for all of their help which aided in completion of the book.

PHAROS

The Pharos had its beginning as a small news bulletin called The Seminary Herald. The Herald was issued periodically by President Hutchinson from 1892-1894. During the academic year 1899-1900, two students, W. H. Franklin and C. H. King, began a monthly publication which was known as The Seminary Collegiate. In 1904-1905, the faculty of Wesleyan was asked to choose the name of the newspaper from a group of three possibilities. Pharos was the name which was selected.

Since 1905, the paper has retained the name Pharos and has been a student-run organization. The paper is published weekly with students from various areas of campus along with a faculty advisor.

The year held many transitions for the Pharos staff. All staff members came to work on the publication with little or no experience in journalism. Motivated by personal interests in writing and a desire to provide the campus community with information about news, special activities and current events kept the staff alive and publishing. Their dedication provided the campus with one of the best newspapers it had seen in years. Editor Dorothy Konkel and her staff handled well many controversial issues.

STAFF PROFILE

ADVISOR: Mort Gamble, Instructor of English and Humanities completed his fifth year with the Paper.

Editor in Chief: Dorothy Konkol, completed her fourth semester with the Pharos. She is a secondary education major with math and English teaching fields. Dorothy loves monkeys.

THE CIRCUIT RIDER

Richard White became known to Pharos readers as the Circuit Rider. The ideas for Richard's Column were based on his experiences as a charge minister for the United Methodist Conference.

He first attended Wesleyan in the early 1970's. After a ten year break from college, he was graduated in December of 1982 with a degree in psychology.

Not only did Richard cram four years of college into twelve, he also served a tour with the Army, was a deputy sheriff, and held management positions with Goodyear, Hecks, and Montgomery Ward.

What will Richard do now? Look for a job, of course.

"Jazz Waves," "New Wave," "Rock-n-Roll Hour," "Rainbow's Touch," and "Classical Gas" were among the names on their program listing. The General Manager of the station was Gary Taylor, aided by the advise of Dr. Bob Moore. The wide variety of DJ's who worked for the station brought day after day of a unique listening experience. "Uncle Albert," "Brian Kane," "John Thomas," and "Brother Bri," were listener's favorites.

CHILDREN'S THEATER

"U. C. R. SIDEWALK"

Children's Theatre performed a didactic play called "U. C. R. Sidewalk," for the Buckhannon and surrounding communities. The plot of the play was about a little boy, Max, who has a fight with his mother. He decides to run away and begins walking along the sidewalk of fantasy. He meets all these imaginative, fairy-tale people and at the end decides that the best place for him is at home. The play was a great success due to the cast who thought up the storyline and rehearsed long hours during January term.

THE ORACLE

Students who participated in Greek organizations during the year found excitement in a wide variety of areas. Greeks sponsored many service projects and social events throughout the year to benefit not only their own groups, but others as well. Both the fraternities and sororities held Spring and Fall rush periods followed by the addition of members through pledge activities.

Greeks participated in service projects as individual organizations and as Greeks as a whole. Each group sponsored events for its own beneficiaries. One of the most prevalent was the Bowl-A-Thon which was sponsored by the brothers of Sigma Theta Epsilon, which was a huge success. The groups also participated in sponsoring projects together. During the second semester, Greeks danced through the night on two occasions to help in the raising of funds for the Heart Fund and Muscular Dystrophy. All of these groups were highly commended for their efforts.

The social aspect of Greek life was also highlighted throughout the year. The Greeks held their individual "formals" which provided a weekend of entertainment for all participants. The fraternities also had "open house" events during the year. Chi Phi continued their tradition on the theme of "Mowie Wowie." The brothers of Theta Xi and Kappa Alpha held events together, since KA was without a house. The members of Theta Chi carried January term through with their events. The Sororities participated in these affairs by supporting the brotherhoods.

GREEKS ADD LIFE!

They are found everywhere on campus. In all organizations and in many leadership positions. Who are they? They are Greeks. Being a Greek gives one the opportunity to grow in almost every aspect of life, not to mention the friends who are gained. With 6 fraternities and 4 sororities, there is a group for everyone. Greeks add fun, spirit, and enthusiasm to the campus. They serve the community and strive to help others. Being a Greek adds a lot to one's campus life.

Social events between fraternities and sororities are often one of the highlights of being a Greek. One of the favorites among Greeks are theme parties such as toga, M*A*S*H, Hawaiian night, Halloween costume parties, Hell's Angels, and Wild Wild West.

Being a Greek involves hard work. It isn't just fun and games. And without the dedication of the Greek members and their officers not much would be accomplished. So hats off to those who make it work. Without you, Greeks would have a very gloomy future.

CHI PHI

The brothers of Chi Phi started the year as usual with their Annual Mowie Wowie Party. Trying to bring the beach to Buckhannon, they even filled a portion of the backyard with sand as the sound of beach music filled the air. With the help of alumni, the brothers were able to make many improvements to their house. One of the brothers, Richie Petras was graced with a son who is of fine Chi Phi quality. Four pledges were taken in the fall and eleven were taken in the spring. We look forward to the parties at Chi Phi and to the great times spent with their brothers.

If you ever drive by you will always see some sort of activity going on whether it be a party or the brothers out working on house improvements. Chi Phi, a small but very respectable fraternity, one that in the past has accomplished a lot and is sure to in the future.

A Dance-a-thon for Muscular Dystrophy, a Thanksgiving collection for the needy, and a collection for the United Way were some of the projects KA undertook this year. They were also given an award for most improved GPA. Left — KA's float with the theme of the country Greece. Left Middle — the seniors of KA. Left Bottom — C. The Delta Gamma chapter of Theta Chi was active this year in both community and athletic activities. The brothers worked on service projects including working for Muscular Dystrophy, United Way, Area Agency on Aging, and the campus blood drive. For exercise and fun the brothers participated in two dance marathons to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy and the Heart Association. The brothers were also successful in capturing ten of eleven intramural league titles.

ADPi worked as a busy team this year in service to both the campus and community. Their main service project was raising money for their philanthropic project, the Ronald McDonald House. Twice the sisters collected canned goods to give to the needy. After losing a large number of members last year, the sisters pulled together to make it a fine year.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Alpha Gamma Delta participated in and sponsored many activities during 1982 and 1983. AGD locally and internationally support the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation and the sisters here had a car wash in October and sponsored once again their ever popular "Family Feud" during January to raise money for this philanthropy.

The sisters also placed first in the women's division for Spring Sing and they captured the title for sororities in Greek Week.

ALPHA XI DELTA

The sisters of Alpha Xi Delta had a great year holding many service projects and winning many awards. At Homecoming Suellyn Oskamp was crowned queen, and during Spring Weekend Kim Hall was crowned Spring Queen. The Xi's took second place in the Homecoming float competition with its theme of France. The members also participated in the Heart Fund Drive and Unicef Drive. One unique activity that they held was a Swing-a-thon for the Lung Association. Serving as President in the fall was Suellyn Oskamp and in the spring the office went to RuthAnn Mason. The year was a good one and surely next year will prove to be even better.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha were one of the leaders in the fight against hazing on campus. They believe that there are better qualities of unity through sisterhood. They participated this year in philanthropic projects for Cystic Fibrosis and others.

STRENGTH IN SMALL NUMBERS

The Combatants of Wesleyan did a fine job in putting Buckhannon on the map. Who would have thought West Virginia Wesleyan could be so dynamic and strong in all areas of sports?

How did these teams win so much? By recruiting top-notch players and coaches, one has the makings of a team. But that's just the beginning. Next came those painful workouts and practice games. The lifting of weights, running long miles, and killer drills were just a few "exercises" the players went through before they even played a game. For the players, it took dedication and determination. For the coaches, it took outrageous demands and chronic worrying to get their players in the best physical form.

The real test, after all this practicing, came with a long season of games against their competitors. As the students of Wesleyan watched their teams win and win and win, they became more involved and enthusiastic. Wesleyan's teams showed everyone that they could do it and do it well. They also made the students realize that Wesleyan has excellent teams, even if it is a small school.

The '82 Bobcat Football team had one of the best seasons it has had in years with a finishing record of 5-5. The freshman-dominated team battled back to win five of its last six games after disappointing losses against West Virginia State, Concord, and Fairmont State.

In addition, there were several individual feats during the season. Dan McCourt with 72 points set a new conference record in scoring by a freshman. Joe Michael also set a new conference record of most points by a kicker with 39 points. John Kelly moved into second place for all-time pass receiving. Paul Price and Jerry Free were named first-team All-Conference and Free was named to the Kodak All-American Team.

EVEN WITH A SLOW START THE FOOTBALL CATS BATTLED FOR A MUCH IMPROVED SEASON MARKED BY A 5-5 FINISH AT THE SEASON'S END.

INDOOR SOCCER TOURNAMENT

COMES TO WESLEYAN

In the first year in what is expected to be an annual event, Wesleyan hosted its first indoor soccer tournament. Held in the main gym of Rockefeller Center the field of competitors included such teams as Alderson-Broaddus, Davis and Elkins, West Virginia University, Wheeling, University of Charleston, St. Vincents, Shaler, Bethany, Akron, Frostburg, Wright State, CMU, and our own Wesleyan Bobcats.

Even with this relatively new event our Bobcats rose to the challenge and captured first place with Alderson-Broadus and Davis and Elkins finishing second and third respectively. It would appear that indoor soccer has come to Wesleyan and is going to stay.

CROSS COUNTRY

With a freshman oriented team Coach Ellis' Cross country squad had an improved year with a sixth place finish in the WVIAC and senior Bill Gentry finished in the top twenty.

SOCCER

Highlighting the Fall 1982 sports season the soccer team had a very fine season with a 16-4-1 record which earned them the WVIAC, NAIA District 28, NAIA Area 8 Championships, and a final ranking in the NAIA of fifth. Also for the first year in the history of the team they earned a place in the national tournament in Wichita Falls, TX in which they only lost one game and that being to the team which finally went on to win the overall championship.

BALL HANDLING WAS ONE OF THE KEYS TO THE TEAM'S SUCCESS.

THEY BATTLED THEIR WAY TO TEXAS FOR NATIONAL COMPETITION BY . . .

... OUTSMARTING THEIR ADVERSARIES WITH QUICK MINDS AND FANCY FOOTWORK.

In addition to going to the national tournament, in which they scored eight goals, the teams had an impressive scoring record during the season. They registered 8 shutouts and 73 goals, while their opponents only scored 22 goals and only 2 shutouts.

The team also had some outstanding individual efforts. The leading scorers were Thomasos, Dehring, and Stephenson. Alan Blackwell, Leslie Farr, Rich Stephenson, Norman Pennycooke, Stuart Thomasos, and Carmine DiSomma were all named to the first team All WVIAC. Leslie Farr, Stuart Thomasos, and Alan Blackwell were named to the NSCAA/NAIA All South Team, and All-American Team. In addition, Alan Blackwell was also named to the Academic All-American Team and MVP in the WVIAC.

ELEMENTS OF SUCCESS

WOMEN'S TENNIS

The women's tennis team had a very good season finishing with a dual match record of 11-1. The team was aided by singles performers; Janet Chernenko and Julie Willison having final records of 11-4 and 12-0 respectively. The team won both district and WVIAC championships and earned the right to play in the NAIA National Tournament in which they finished 20th and Janet Chernenko advanced to the quarter finals and Julie Willison lost her first match ever to the girl who captured the overall title. Finally Coach Ross in his final year of coaching the team was named Coach of the Year. The girls had a very fine season and it looks as if we can expect more of the same next year with all but one of the team returning, plus the addition of several freshmen to the team.

LADY CATS

The lady cats had an impressive season culminating in capturing the Division III championship in the Eastern Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, and posted a final record of 9-5-1. In addition the team also won the Lynchburg Invitational Tournament. The team's leading scorer was Missy McCloskey with a total of nineteen goals seven of which she scored in the first game. Freshman Deb Lookingbill closely followed with fifteen goals. The team led by captains Robin Gilmore and Cathy Mullooly led a team of fourteen girls in what was to be a rebuilding year and produced much more.

COACH STEWART LEADS 'CATS TO NAIA TOURNAMENT

The 'Cats battled their way through a tough season and on to the NAIA Championship in Kansas City. Led by Coaches Stewart and Cameron, the team handled its season well with a final record of 32-6. The team fell in a 57-53 loss to the College of Charleston, SC in the NAIA competition. The Bobcats fought well in defeating such top competitors as Chicago State, Carson-Newman, and Fort Hays.

During the regular season, the 'Cats excelled in foul shooting and along with their spectacular defense, they created a wave of victories. At home and away, the team was amazing with winning streaks of seven and eleven games. Its performance brought the campus and Buckhannon communities to rally behind "their team." After an eventful season the team placed second in the West Virginia Conference. Finishing second in the conference was not the end of the season for the hungry 'Cats. After the state tourney, the team had to face rival Salem College to scramble for the right to go to Kansas City.

The three game series was one of great anxiety, as the Salem team won the first game on their home court. The Bobcats fought back and won the second game in Rockefeller Center. Tension increased as the teams headed for the final conflict at Fairmont. A few hours before the game, the coaches were notified that regardless of the outcome of the series, Wesleyan would go to Kansas City.

LADY 'CATS FACED A DISAPPOINTING SEASON

The Women's basketball program did not see the success which the men's team encountered. The ladies struggled through a 4-18 season. Led by Coach Caroline Ramsey, who was assisted by Kathy Haas, the team gained a second wind at the end of the season. Despite great losses the women fought back until the end as they faced top-ranked Wheeling College in the WVIAC Women's Tournament and lost the game by only two baskets. Leading the team in scoring throughout the tough season were seniors Cathy Mullooly and Tammie Shockey. The underclassmen squad of freshmen Amy Piotrkowski, Mary Frances Hood and Deb Lookingbill and juniors Amy Felker and Lorrie Isaac contributed greatly by initiating some fine performances. Although the team faced an incredibly hard season, persistence held them together. The end of the season brought the announcement that Coach Kathy Haas would serve as the head coach for the Lady 'Cats in 83-84, assisted by Mr. Robert Cable.

TRACK AND FIELD

The Men's track team had a good season even with a lower finish of third in the conference meet than in past years. Top Performers for the team included 400 meter relay team of John Kelly, Kevin Branch, Rick Carrier, and Ray Windon, and the mile relay team of Don Smith, John Kelly, Glen Dyer and Kevin Branch both of which were conference champs and the 400 meter team was undefeated. Other top performers in the conference meet included Tim Mason who took second in the 110 high hurdles, and Pat Husereau who took the conference championship in the javelin. The team was greatly aided by freshman talent like Don Smith, Rick Carrier, and Ray Windon who set a home record in the 100 by running it in 9.8. Other members of the team included Blain Keener (pole vault), Steve Puddington, Mark Taglienti in the discus both place in the conference meet, and Darrell Nailer and Paul Szolis in the Shot Put.

MEN'S TENNIS

The men's tennis team had another good year and kept up its reputation as being one of the best spring sports on campus. With such seniors as Dicky Warhurst and John Gillespie the team earned an 11-2 overall record and third place finish in the WVIAC. Along with Gillespie and Warhurst who had records of 14-2 and 15-1 respectively the team also had good seasons from Tim Hulsey (12-4), Tony Pace (14-3), Peter Civitella (14-4) and Rob Kincaide (9-7).

The team was helped by the efforts of its doubles teams of Warhurst and Hulsey, Gillespie and Kincaide, and Pace and Civitella.

BASEBALL

The baseball team was plagued by rainouts throughout the season. Even though the rain kept the 'Cats from playing a complete season, they came just short of making the playoffs. They did manage to finish with a season average of over .500. The highlight of the season came when they defeated Charleston in a game that lasted 13 innings and ended at 12:30 a.m. The 'Cats hope to have a much better season next year if they can avoid the rain.

WESLEYAN ENTERTAINERS

Campus Activities Board organized and arranged a wide variety of programs which were brought to campus throughout the year. This organization consisted mainly of students, with help from the faculty and administration. Janet Maloney served as president of the group and its main support stemmed from the programming office.

To begin the new year, CAB brought entertainers such as Tom Parks, a comedian, and Dr. John's Frisbee Show. These gentlemen and their acts were brought to the campus in late August.

As September began the group Montana entertained students in an outdoor concert. For a different outlook on the entertainment scene Symbol 8 performed in the social hall providing dance music which all who attended enjoyed. From another perspective Bob Fellows visited the campus to mystify with a spellbinding evening of magic.

FALL HIGHLIGHTS

Fall also provided the optimal setting for Mike Cross as he performed in the Quad courtyard one evening. Under a beautiful moonlit sky, Mike danced and fiddled his way around the stage and into the hearts of the onlookers.

In another exciting event, the comedy team of Mack and Jaime provided laughter for all in the social hall. But much to the disappointment of the hard-working CAB members the attendance at the fall activities began to fall off. They continued to work hard to provide programs which would capture the interest of the campus community.

Sunday, October 3rd, the Marshall Tucker Band performed in the Main Gym in Rockefeller Center. Lines began to form as early as two hours before the performance, as the band and CAB members rushed to put the final touches on, in anticipation of the performance. The evening began with the warm-up band, Artemus Pyle. Both of the groups performed well for an audience of over 1,400.

As October progressed, the activity calendar began to be filled. Barry Drake gave a mini-concert in the social hall which was very pleasant. Soon after Homecoming weekend was upon us. The wide range of events kept the campus busy. Some of the highlights included a concert by Michael Johnson, along with the comedy team of O'Brien and Sevara. In the tradition of Homecoming a dance was held on Saturday of that weekend with a special performance by Hot Ice.

Fall entertainment continued despite the chronic lack of participation by the students, throughout the remainder of the semester. During October the Dillman Band presented a concert in the gym. With a change in pace, the National Players performed Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew." During the ensuing months, entertainers of a wide variety visited the campus to perform.

ENTERTAINMENT IN JANUARY

Ah, yes . . . Jan-term. That wonderful relaxing time of year when students have time for fun and games. Wesleyan's programming office put on show after show which many students, faculty, and administration participated in.

To kick off Jan-term, the Student-Faculty Talent Night was a big hit. Dean Michel showed Wesleyan his talents as a comedian by mocking the typical German professor. He also participated in the Dallas Cheerleaders which was a wonderful chorus of various faculty and administration. Dean Dallas Bailey conducted them in a medley of barber shop songs (opposite page, bottom right).

Almost Anything Goes was next in line for the Jan-term entertainment. Students teamed up and enjoyed the zany little games.

Some of them were bowling, relay race, stacking contest, innertube race, water in a cup, walking in H<sub>2</sub>O, wheelbarrow race, and balloon blow.

Casino Night was great fun for the big time gamblers of Wesleyan. The Top-of-SCOW social hall never looked so enticing with Blackjack, Roulette, Over and Under, Poker Dice, Craps, Beat the Wheeler, 3-Dice Hazard, Pokerino, and many other tables set up all over.

The all-time favorite Family Feud, sponsored by Alpha Gamma Delta, went on once again. Most fraternities and sororities were represented. Plus many independent groups enjoyed playing including those deadly Hecklers.

To wrap up Jan-term, Campus Activities Board sponsored a Hawaiian Night. They decorated the Auxiliary Gym with palm trees, ocean scenes, and even sand to create the balmy atmosphere of Hawaii. Students came dressed, danced, and ate as if they were at a Luau. Many students probably wished they were in Hawaii, too!

SECOND SEMESTER FOLLIES

Second semester's entertainment began with Craig Karges and his presentation of "ESO and Magic of the Mind." In his performance Karges mystified his audience with such feats as correctly guessing social security numbers and interlocking rings. He also performed optical illusions like causing a table to rise from the floor.

Two fine theatre groups performed on campus during the spring, bringing a welcomed change to the entertainment stage. The Alpha-Omega players performed the play, "Private Lives." The Barter Theater also paid the campus a visit and presented Agatha Christie's, "The Mousetrap."

These events were among the finest performances which were staged on campus during the year. The various programs which were provided were well received by the campus community.

BLACK AWARENESS WEEK

Each year the Black Student Coalition sponsors "Black Awareness Week." February 13-19 held the honors for gala week this year. In celebration of their heritage the students sponsored many activities during their annual event.

Highlighting the week was a student fashion show. The show featured the members of BSC in current fashions, along with members of the International Student organization who displayed their national dress. The women's fashions, for the most part were provided by "Artley's." Some of the clothing was created by Wesleyan students. The organization also brought the movie "Sparkle" to campus. Combined efforts of BSC and the Campus activities board proved to be very enjoyable as Willie Tyler and Lester entertained the campus. The organization is to be commended for the great contributions which were made throughout the year, and especially their fine presentation of "Black Awareness Week."

Variety for the Spring

Variety is the key to the success of the efforts of the Campus Activities Board. During the Spring the group sponsored many diverse programs. Comedians, dancers, theatre groups, bands, movies, and sports competitions were among the activities which were provided.

Entertainer Sean Morey performed his juggling show combined with a comedy routine. The world famous Trinidad Steelband performed in early March in Wesley Chapel. This band, under the direction of Hugh Borde, prides itself on being "a family group." The National Marionette Theatre traveled throughout the country providing a series of exclusive presentations, and Wesleyan was one of the stops. Another program which was sponsored by the joint efforts of CAB and the Liberal Education Series was Japanese Dancer, Saeko Ichinohe. This cultural program was an enlightening experience, as the mystery of Oriental tradition was revealed on stage.

The programming which was provided this year brought local, national, and international performers to Wesleyan.

The Murmurmontis staff would like to thank Judy Brigman and Jeff Tavares for their many hours of "Shooting" Wesleyan. Judy and Jeff were the photographers who took the portraits during both the fall and spring sittings. They kept the campus smiling with their inventive phrases, such as, "Hi, Mom!," and "Budweiser," both which raised many smiles. Their devotion to their work as professional photographers helped in making this a great book.

EDITOR'S REFLECTIONS

"In the beginning was chaos, without an easily accessible avenue which would lead to completion. Many changes needed to occur. Uncertainties raced through our minds, yet with ideas in hand we began to face the path ahead of us. With a positive attitude the staff aligned and grew to become a creative, cooperative team . . ."

We would like to thank our staff members, our advisors and our photographers, who worked very hard to create this yearbook. Our initial demands may have seemed unreasonable, yet the transitions which occurred were necessary to give this book the air of contemporary yearbook design. We could only hope that our efforts would be reflected well through the completion of this book.

To our staff and friends who well weathered our challenging demands, and especially Mrs. Baldwin, we never could have done this without you. Mr. Ruhlow, we ask that you debit financial matters and credit Thank-You! Dr. G. Thanks for your counseling and inspiration. To Glenda, Dorothy and Mort, we leave the loving memories of the monkey house. As a parting comment to all: We'll be back next year.
